| Specificity/Sensitivity | Succinate dehydrogenase (SDH) is Complex II in the mitochondria, vital for mitochondrial electron transport, as well as Krebs cycle function. Four subunits comprise the SDH protein complex: a flavochrome subunit (SDHA), an iron-sulfur protein (SDHB) and two membrane-bound subunits (SDHC and SDHD) anchored to the inner mitochondrial membrane. The SDH complex functions as a tumor suppressor. Loss of any subunit proteins lead to destabilization of the complex and tumor formation. Antibody to SDHB is helpful in the identification of pheochromocytomas, paragangliomas and GIST. |
| Immunogen | Recombinant fragment (around aa 165-273) of human SDHB protein (exact sequence is proprietary) (Uniprot: P21912) |
